Town & Country Bank Names Two Senior Vice Presidents

ST. GEORGE, UT—Town & Country Bank has announced that Wendy Holt and John Jones have been promoted to Senior Vice President. Ms. Holt joined the bank in 2008 and has served as the bank's business development officer, as well as manager of its Women's Banking Group. She is also the women's conference chair for the Utah Bankers Association. Mr. Jones started at Town & Country as a loan officer in 2008, after moving from Centennial Bank, where he managed its St. George Office.

Recently, Town & Country reported first quarter 2012 earnings of $167,000. The bank also notes that its Return on Average Assets through the first quarter topped all ten Utah community banks under $100 million in assets, and was the sixth highest among all 22 community banks in the state. Additionally, Town & Country reports that after four years of operations, its Return on Assets ranks among the top third of all banks in the nation. Last month the bank was named as a finalist for the Western Independent Bankers' "Most Innovative Community Bank Award".
