NEW BANK GROWING QUICKLY

Just over a month after its grand opening, Town & Country Bank has established a new loan production office in St. George. The facility at 1224 South River Road is about 1/3 mile from its main office and houses the bank's five-person lending staff. Bruce Jensen, President & CEO, says "It was necessary for us to bring on additional loan staff and find more space to accommodate consistently heavy loan demand." Recently the bank hired two additional loan professionals.

The bank is significantly ahead of initial credit projections and Jensen says he "is pleased with the caliber of our borrowers and the the fact that our portfolio is not highly concentrated in any one area."

Town & Country Bank is locally headquartered and differentiates itself from competitors through its Concierge Banking model, debit card discounts and bank-operated courier service for businesses.
