

Website Accessibility

We want people of all abilities to be able to use our website.

Your Feedback is Valued

We have worked hard to make our website useable for people of all abilities, and we believe that it is. Also, we will comply with applicable law and applicable standards relating to website accessibility. However, we are interested in continued improvement. For that reason, we are continually reviewing and making changes to our site. We are interested in feedback from you about our site. If you find any part of our site to be difficult to use, particularly if you have a disability, please let us know either by emailing us at customercare@pi.bank or by contacting us toll free at 800-815-2265.

To assist us in addressing your issue, please provide the following:

- The nature of what you found to be difficult to use
- The web address of the particular page
- Your full contact information, so that we can reach you to request more information if needed
